Re: Classification Code 8810: Phase 4 & Other Classification Changes

Members of the Rating Board:

I write to inform you that the New York State Department of Financial Services ("DFS") has approved amendments to the Rating Board's New York Workers' Compensation and Employers' Liability Manual ("Manual") and New York Retrospective Rating Plan ("Retro Plan") which are detailed herein and attached hereto. Specifically, DFS has approved the changes described below.

For a detailed explanation of the approved changes, please see the Classification Code 8810: Phase 4 & Other Classification Changes pamphlet, which is available for viewing and download on the Rating Board's website.

I. Classification Code 8810: Phase 4

- Classification Code 8741 (Real Estate Agencies and Property Management Companies - Clerical and Outside Salespersons)

  Effective October 1, 2026, real estate agencies, property management companies, and related salespersons, will be removed from classification codes 8810 (Clerical Office Employees – NOC) and 8742 (Outside Salespersons), and will be included within the newly established classification code 8741 (Real Estate Agencies and Property Management Companies - Clerical and Outside Salespersons).

II. Classification Maintenance

DFS has also approved the elimination of five classification codes, and the operations within those codes will be merged into other related codes.

- Code 4282 (Dress Pattern Mfg. – Paper): Code 4282 will be discontinued following a five-year transition period. Effective October 1, 2030, the experience of paper dress pattern manufacturing operations will be merged into Code 4279 (Paper Goods Mfg. – NOC).

- Code 1439 (Smelting – Electric Process): Code 1439 will be discontinued following a three-year transition period. Effective October 1, 2028, the experience of smelting electric process operations will be merged into Code 1438 (Smelting, Sintering or Refining – NOC – Metals – Not Iron or Lead & Drivers).

- Code 4053 (Pottery Mfg. – China or Tableware) and Code 4061 (Pottery Mfg. – Earthenware – Glazed or Porcelain – Hand Molded or Cast): Codes 4053 and 4061 will be discontinued following a three-year transition period. Effective October 1, 2028, the experience in Codes 4053 and 4061 will be merged into Code 4062 (Pottery Mfg. – Porcelain Ware – Mechanical Press Forming).

- Code 9027 (Building Operation – Dwelling or Combined Dwelling and Commercial Occupancy Not More Than One Story Used for Commercial Purposes): Code 9027 will be discontinued following a three-year transition period. To initiate the transition, on October 1, 2026, the exposure base of Code 9027 will be changed from a per-location to a payroll base. Effective October 1, 2028, the experience of Code 9027 will be merged into Code 9028 (Building Operation – NOC – Dwelling or Combined Dwelling & Commercial Occupancy).

The requisite Manual and Retro Plan pages in connection with the elimination of Codes 4282, 1439, 4053, 4061 and 9027 will be distributed at a later date since these codes will remain in effect for the duration of their respective transition periods.

The following modified and final pages from the Manual and Retro Plan, reflecting the approved amendments in connection with Code 8741, are attached for your convenience: (a) Manual – Classifications Section: C-27, C-28, C-29, C-30, C-31, C-32, C-543a, C-543b, C-544, C-554, C-557, C-578, C-579 and C-580;[1] and (b) Retro Plan – Table D, page 4.

If you have any questions, please contact Mr. James O'Hare, Vice President of Underwriting Services at (212) 808-8073 or at underwritingservices@nycirb.org.

Very truly yours,

Jeremy Attie
President and CEO

[1] The Loss Costs Tables in the Manual will include the following footnotes to identify classifications subject to either a three-year or five-year transition to discontinuance: "T8 - Code is scheduled to be discontinued, effective 10/1/28"; "T0 - Code is scheduled to be discontinued, effective 10/1/30."

Real Estate Agencies and Property Management Companies – Clerical & Outside Salespersons — 8741

Description

Code 8741 applies to commercial and residential real estate agencies and property management companies that represent buyers, sellers, lessees and lessors in real estate transactions. This classification also applies to non-residing leasing agents of a property management company who are engaged exclusively in the rental or leasing of property to clients and who have no other duties of any kind except clerical office work and the property management company retains separate employees to manage the property.

Commercial agencies focus primarily on properties such as office buildings, retail spaces, industrial facilities and mixed-use developments. Residential agencies deal with homes, condominiums, co-ops and rental apartments. Operations may include brokerage services representing landlords and tenants in lease negotiations, facilitating property sales and rental transactions, assistance with finding apartments and negotiating leases, conducting open houses and virtual tours.

Property management companies will handle tenant screening, lease agreements and rent collection, coordination of repairs and maintenance and managing legal notices and eviction processes.

The operation or management of rental property, construction and remodeling operations shall be separately classified.

	Building Operation – Commercial – No Dwelling Occupancy Except by Owner or Custodian	9026
	Note: Separately rate window cleaning, maintenance or repairs at any location where the employer does not also perform janitorial services. Not applicable to the operation of any building of which the employer occupies the entire or major portion for manufacturing or mercantile purposes.
	Description
★	Code 9026 applies to employers engaged operating a commercial building where there is no dwelling occupancy except for the owner or custodian. Also, the entire or major portion (depending on the size of the building, usually more than one-half) of the building cannot be occupied by the employer to conduct manufacturing or mercantile operations. Operations involve maintaining the building as well as performing janitorial services. Maintenance of the building will involve window cleaning, plumbing, changing light bulbs and performing any necessary repairs. However, in addition to maintaining the building, the employer must perform janitorial services. Janitorial services are defined as your ordinary up-keep of a building such as sweeping, mopping, taking out the trash, mowing the lawn, snow removal and other janitorial services.
	Assignment By Analogy
	• Flea markets that rent indoor space to vendors • Self-service storage facilities – customers who handle own merchandise
	Operations To Be Separately Rated
	1. Operations: (a) Commercial building where window cleaning and maintenance is being performed and no janitorial services are being provided. Refer to Code 9029 "Building – NOC – Maintenance or Ordinary Repair Only – Not Contractors." (b) Residential building not more than twelve tenants including a janitor and not more than one story used for commercial purposes. Refer to Code 9027 "Building Operation – Dwelling or Combined Dwelling and Commercial Occupancy Not More than One Story Used for Commercial Purposes." (c) Residential building or combined dwelling and commercial occupancy building. Refer to Code 9028 "Building Operation – NOC – Dwelling or Combined Dwelling and Commercial Occupancy."
★	2. Real estate agencies and property management companies. Refer to Code 8741 "Real Estate Agencies and Property Management Companies - Clerical & Outside Salespersons."

	Building Operation – Dwelling or Combined Dwelling and Commercial Occupancy Not More than One Story Used for Commercial Purposes	9027
	Note: Shall not apply to a building of which the employer occupies the major portion for manufacturing or mercantile purposes nor to a location where more than the equivalent of one full-time employee performs building operation work.
	Description
	Code 9027 applies to employers that are engaged in operating a building that has dwelling or combined dwelling and commercial occupancy provided that only one story is used for commercial occupancy. Applies where each separate location provides dwelling occupancies for not more than twelve tenants including a janitor, if any. "Location" is defined as one or more buildings located on a single property occupied by the employer not intercepted by a public way or property owned by others. The operations involve maintaining the building as well as performing janitorial services. Maintenance of the building will involve window cleaning, plumbing, changing light bulbs and performing any necessary repairs. However, in addition to maintaining the building, the employer must also perform janitorial services. Janitorial services are defined as your ordinary upkeep of a building such as sweeping, mopping, taking out the trash, mowing the lawn, snow removal and other janitorial services.

	Building Operation – NOC – Dwelling or Combined Dwelling & Commercial Occupancy	9028
	Note: Shall not apply to a location at which the basic and major operations of the employer are described by some other classification. Window cleaning, maintenance or repairs at any location where the employer does not also perform janitorial services are to be separately rated. Shall not apply to a building of which the employer occupies the major portion for manufacturing or mercantile purposes.
	Description
★	Code 9028 applies to employers engaged in operating a building where there is dwelling, or dwelling combined with commercial occupancy. The entire or major portion (depending on the size of the building, usually more than one-half) of the building cannot be occupied by the employer to conduct manufacturing or mercantile operations. The operations involve maintaining the building as well as performing janitorial services. Maintenance of the building will involve window cleaning, plumbing, changing light bulbs and performing any necessary repairs. 	Building – NOC – Maintenance or Ordinary Repair Only – Not Contractors	9029
	Note: Applies only to a building where the employer does not conduct janitorial, custodial or other business operations at the same location. Includes maintenance and ordinary repairs of recreational vehicle campgrounds or trailer or mobile park grounds.
	Description
	Code 9029 applies to employers engaged in performing maintenance operations and/or ordinary repair of buildings owned by banks or trust companies in their fiduciary capacity. For this classification to be applied, the employer cannot perform any janitorial services such as sweeping, mopping or taking out the trash. This classification is intended to cover maintenance or repair employees such as window cleaners, painters, carpenters, electricians, plumbers and steam fitters. Operations involve maintaining the building whether cleaning the windows, fixing leaks, changing bulbs, performing carpentry or painting when necessary. This classification also includes the operation of mobile and/or trailer home parks, recreation vehicle campgrounds or parks. Maintenance and repair operations as indicated above are conducted in order to maintain and repair the facilities. This classification is also applicable to ordinary maintenance and repair of a building operated on behalf of the owner by a real estate agent, when performed by regular employees of the real estate agent.

Real Estate Agencies and Property Management Companies – Clerical & Outside Salespersons — 8741

Description

Code 8741 applies to commercial and residential real estate agencies and property management companies that represent buyers, sellers, lessees and lessors in real estate transactions. This classification also applies to non-residing leasing agents of a property management company who are engaged exclusively in the rental or leasing of property to clients and who have no other duties of any kind except clerical office work and the property management company retains separate employees to manage the property.

Commercial agencies focus primarily on properties such as office buildings, retail spaces, industrial facilities and mixed-use developments. Residential agencies deal with homes, condominiums, co-ops and rental apartments. Operations may include brokerage services representing landlords and tenants in lease negotiations, facilitating property sales and rental transactions, assistance with finding apartments and negotiating leases, conducting open houses and virtual tours.

Property management companies will handle tenant screening, lease agreements and rent collection, coordination of repairs and maintenance and managing legal notices and eviction processes.

The operation or management of rental property, construction and remodeling operations shall be separately classified.

	Building Operation – Commercial – No Dwelling Occupancy Except by Owner or Custodian	9026
	Note: Separately rate window cleaning, maintenance or repairs at any location where the employer does not also perform janitorial services. Not applicable to the operation of any building of which the employer occupies the entire or major portion for manufacturing or mercantile purposes.
	Description
★	Code 9026 applies to employers engaged operating a commercial building where there is no dwelling occupancy except for the owner or custodian. Also, the entire or major portion (depending on the size of the building, usually more than one-half) of the building cannot be occupied by the employer to conduct manufacturing or mercantile operations. Operations involve maintaining the building as well as performing janitorial services. Maintenance of the building will involve window cleaning, plumbing, changing light bulbs and performing any necessary repairs. However, in addition to maintaining the building, the employer must perform janitorial services. Janitorial services are defined as your ordinary upkeep of a building such as sweeping, mopping, taking out the trash, mowing the lawn, snow removal and other janitorial services.
	Assignment By Analogy
	• Flea markets that rent indoor space to vendors • Self-service storage facilities – customers who handle own merchandise
	Operations To Be Separately Rated
	1. Operations: (a) Commercial building where window cleaning and maintenance is being performed and no janitorial services are being provided. Refer to Code 9029 "Building – NOC – Maintenance or Ordinary Repair Only – Not Contractors." (b) Residential building not more than twelve tenants including a janitor and not more than one story used for commercial purposes. Refer to Code 9027 "Building Operation – Dwelling or Combined Dwelling and Commercial Occupancy Not More than One Story Used for Commercial Purposes." (c) Residential building or combined dwelling and commercial occupancy building. Refer to Code 9028 "Building Operation – NOC – Dwelling or Combined Dwelling and Commercial Occupancy."
★	2. Real estate agencies and property management companies. Refer to Code 8741 "Real Estate Agencies and Property Management Companies - Clerical & Outside Salespersons."

	Building Operation – Dwelling or Combined Dwelling and Commercial Occupancy Not More than One Story Used for Commercial Purposes	9027
	Note: Shall not apply to a building of which the employer occupies the major portion for manufacturing or mercantile purposes nor to a location where more than the equivalent of one full-time employee performs building operation work.
	Description
	Code 9027 applies to employers that are engaged in operating a building that has dwelling or combined dwelling and commercial occupancy provided that only one story is used for commercial occupancy. Applies where each separate location provides dwelling occupancies for not more than twelve tenants including a janitor, if any. "Location" is defined as one or more buildings located on a single property occupied by the employer not intercepted by a public way or property owned by others. The operations involve maintaining the building as well as performing janitorial services. Maintenance of the building will involve window cleaning, plumbing, changing light bulbs and performing any necessary repairs. However, in addition to maintaining the building, the employer must also perform janitorial services. Janitorial services are defined as your ordinary upkeep of a building such as sweeping, mopping, taking out the trash, mowing the lawn, snow removal and other janitorial services.
	Assignment By Analogy

	Building Operation – NOC – Dwelling or Combined Dwelling & Commercial Occupancy	9028
	Note: Shall not apply to a location at which the basic and major operations of the employer are described by some other classification. Window cleaning, maintenance or repairs at any location where the employer does not also perform janitorial services are to be separately rated. Shall not apply to a building of which the employer occupies the major portion for manufacturing or mercantile purposes.
	Description
★	Code 9028 applies to employers engaged in operating a building where there is dwelling, or dwelling combined with commercial occupancy. The entire or major portion (depending on the size of the building, usually more than one-half) of the building cannot be occupied by the employer to conduct manufacturing or mercantile operations. The operations involve maintaining the building as well as performing janitorial services. Maintenance of the building will involve window cleaning, plumbing, changing light bulbs and performing any necessary repairs. However, in addition to maintaining the building, the employer must also perform janitorial services. Janitorial services are defined as your ordinary upkeep of a building such as sweeping, mopping, taking out the trash, mowing the lawn, snow removal and other janitorial services.

★	2. Real estate agencies and property management companies. Refer to Code 8741 "Real Estate Agencies and Property Management Companies - Clerical & Outside Salespersons."

	Building – NOC – Maintenance or Ordinary Repair Only – Not Contractors	9029
	Note: Applies only to a building where the employer does not conduct janitorial, custodial or other business operations at the same location. Includes maintenance and ordinary repairs of recreational vehicle campgrounds or trailer or mobile park grounds.
	Description
	Code 9029 applies to employers engaged in performing maintenance operations and/or ordinary repair of buildings owned by banks or trust companies in their fiduciary capacity. For this classification to be applied, the employer cannot perform any janitorial services such as sweeping, mopping or taking out the trash. This classification is intended to cover maintenance or repair employees such as window cleaners, painters, carpenters, electricians, plumbers and steam fitters. Operations involve maintaining the building whether cleaning the windows, fixing leaks, changing bulbs, performing carpentry or painting when necessary. This classification also includes the operation of mobile and/or trailer home parks, recreation vehicle campgrounds or parks. Maintenance and repair operations as indicated above are conducted in order to maintain and repair the facilities. This classification is also applicable to ordinary maintenance and repair of a building operated on behalf of the owner by a real estate agent, when performed by regular employees of the real estate agent.
	Assignment By Analogy
★	• Handymen employed by real estate agencies or property management companies to do minor repair work on buyers' homes • Vessels – pier maintenance
