

NYCIRB

New York Compensation
Insurance Rating Board
733 Third Avenue
New York, NY 10017
Tel: (212) 697-3535

December 15, 2021

Data Reporting Bulletin

Re: New York Compensation Insurance Rating Board
2022 Financial Call Season - Data Valued as of December 31, 2021

Members of the Rating Board:

This bulletin constitutes the official call for New York Workers' Compensation Financial Data valued as of December 31, 2021. The 2022 Financial Data Call Instructions, which include a list of required forms and their associated due dates, are now available on the Rating Board's website. Please be reminded that all carriers must submit their policy year data calls, calendar-accident year calls and Annual Statement related calendar calls by March 15, 2022.

The New York Financial Data Reporting Application ("FDRA") was improved to enhance user experience. The FDRA system is available at <https://fdra.nycirb.org>. The enhancements include:

- Updated user interface
- Faster response and processing times
- New criticism system to facilitate and track communications between the Rating Board and carriers
- New upload/download features:
 - Download edit errors
 - Upload edit explanations
 - Download "All Templates"
- Pre-Acknowledgements for new call years
- Consistent call templates for all years going back to 2005
- Performance Report (Score Card Report)

In addition, the instructions for the 2022 reporting year have been updated to reflect the following changes and clarifications:

- 1. Change: Removal of questions relating to Policy Year 2019 Premium in Calls NY 101 and NY 101D.
- 2. Change: Mandatory reporting of schedule rating adjustments in Calls NY 101 and NY 101D. The reporting of Schedule Rating Premium Adjustments (Column 26A) and All Other Safety and Specialty Program Premium Adjustments (Column 26B) is mandatory for all applicable policy years beginning with data valued as of 12/31/2021. For each policy year, the reported values in Columns 26A and 26B will sum to the total for Safety and Specialty Program Adjustments (Column 26). Previously, the reporting of these columns was optional.

3. Clarification: Allocated Loss Adjustment Expenses associated with employers' liability claims. For aggregate financial data calls (e.g., policy year and calendar-accident year data calls), allocated loss adjustment expenses ("ALAE") associated with employers' liability claims must be included with indemnity losses and excluded from reported Defense and Cost Containment amounts. For the special data call on employers' liability (NY 141), ALAE is reported separately from losses.
4. Clarification: Special Data Calls. To ensure consistent reporting between financial data calls and unit statistical reports, general instructions were added to Section VII, Special Data Calls, to clarify how to properly report individual claims and reflect subrogation.
5. Update: Revised Edits. Additional edits have been incorporated into the FDRA system to perform validation which had been previously done outside of FDRA. These additional edits would provide instant feedback to carriers and reduce the need for correspondence and resubmissions. In addition, the Edits Document has been made available on the Rating Board website in PDF and Excel formats, separate from the Instructions Document.
6. Update: Amended New York Data Call Incentive Program and Score Card Reports. Please refer to Section XI for details. Score Card Reports for Call Year 2021 are now available in FDRA.
7. Update: Easy Access to Q&A. The Q&A section was removed from the Instructions and can now be accessed directly on the Rating Board website.

FDRA training and orientation sessions will be made available soon. In addition, the Rating Board will host live webinars by early February to focus on the recent changes and Q&As. Meeting invitations will be distributed via email to registered FDRA users.

Please acknowledge immediately upon your receipt of these calls by checking the appropriate circles in the Acknowledgement section in FDRA.

Thank you for your cooperation in fulfilling the NYCIRB data reporting requirements.

Very Truly yours,

Ziv Kimmel

Ziv Kimmel, FCAS, MAAA
Senior Vice President & Chief Actuary